
Wanted
Guest Editor to manage Special Issue of BJS focusing on trauma

In 2011 the BJS will produce a 13th issue that focuses on trauma for the general surgeon. This issue of the BJS will comprise a series of invited articles together with a selection of the best scientific articles submitted to the BJS.

The successful applicant will join the BJS Editorial Team for the duration of the project and will manage the commissioning and handling of the manuscripts. Applicants should have an expert knowledge of trauma surgery and experience in publishing. Expressions of interest including a short CV should be sent to Alison Cherrie, Managing Editor of BJS (alcherri@wiley.com) before 31st October 2010.
