24th European Congress on Surgical Infection

25-28 May 2011 León, Spain

Dear colleagues,

Leon, a millenarian Castilian city on the Pilgrims' Way to Santiago de Compostela, has been chosen as the venue for the 24th European Congress on Surgical Infection, on 25-28 May 2011.

I can assure you that this city will surprise you. You will find it a very peaceful town, where everything is within walking distance.

In the historical walled centre you will enjoy visiting a wonderful, impressive and fragile Gothic cathedral with unique stained glass windows which you will be able to explore through a recently-built platform and lift.

Walking or cycling along the cobblestone, car-free streets you will reach the Plaza Mayor, with its unmistakable portals and single-story houses. This square has hosted a fruit and vegetable market every Saturday for the last 1000 years! The Palacio de los Guzmanes (Guzmans' Palace) next to the Town Hall, the Iglesia de S Marcelo (St Marcelo's Church) and the Casa de Botines (House of Botines) form the surroundings of the Plaza de las Palomas (Doves' Square). The Basilica de San Isidoro (St Isidore's Romanesque Basilica) will also impress you.

In the evening the streets are crowded with people moving from one tapas bar to another. There are several hundred tapas bars in which for a few coins you can enjoy your dinner.

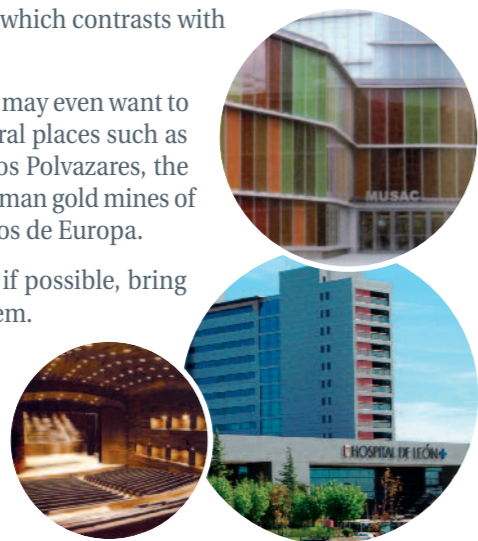

The 15th Century Hostal de San Marcos, formerly a pilgrims' hospital, is now a luxurious five-star hotel and about 300 metres from the Leon Auditorium where the Congress will be held, a very modern building which contrasts with its surroundings.

Your stay in Leon will be unforgettable and you may even want to extend it with visits to other historical or natural places such as the city of Astorga, the village of Castrillo de los Polvazares, the restaurants of the Caves of Valdevimbre, the Roman gold mines of Medulas or the beautiful landscapes of the Picos de Europa.

Make room in your agenda to visit Leon and, if possible, bring your family. We will also organise things for them.

Yours sincerely,

Jesus M Culebras, MD
President, 24th European Congress.
